

Husky Paw Print

Volume 2, Issue 1

December 16, 2011

Special points of interest:

- 7th—12th Christmas Program in Almena on Tuesday, Dec. 20th @ 7 PM
- HS BB C—Team tournament in Hill City on Dec. 29th—Dec. 31st.
- HS BB against Stockton in Almena on Jan. 3rd @ 4:30 PM
- Jan. 5th—School Resumes

Inside this issue:

Interview	2
Benefit Soup Supper	2
Surveys	3
Sports continued	3
Editorials	4
Random Photos	4

Leadership

Leadership plays a role in most everything. In every class and at every age, you need to show leadership and maturity because you never know who is out there looking up to you. To be a good leader you need to show responsibility and good character.

Here at Northern Valley being a good leader is something that should come naturally to us!

“Do not follow where the path may lead. Go instead where there is no path and leave a trail.”
Ralph Waldo Emerson

Sports!

First, there was a peach basket. Then, there was a net. We had 5 ball games with the Logan Trojans. We put a great effort on both challenges. The stats were improving from the Logan game since we played Stockton in pre-season.

A-team boys lost at 34-43 points, but had a great challenge. B-team boys won with 41-22 points, which was pretty simple since their 1st quarter. Winning by a shocking 30-7 was the A-team girls! The close 2-quarter

---

Interview with Emily Lowry

We would like to introduce Emily Lowry. She manages to be a wonderful mother of five children while finishing school at Fort Hays State University and student teaching.

Here are some things about her that you may not know. Her favorite holiday is Christmas because she gets to see her family. Gone with the Wind is her favorite book. Every Wednesday night she gets to watch her favorite TV show which is Parenthood. In her limited free time she likes to read and travel with her kids. When asked who her favorite child is she said depends on the day. :-)

The reason she wants to be a math teacher is she likes working with kids and watching them learn new things.

-Benefit Soup Supper for the Shearer's-

We did a soup super for Roger and Karen who worked at the Long Island building for over 35 years. We wanted to help them financially get through Karen's illness with cancer. Personally Roger has a special place in my heart. He was the janitor when I was a kid and took care of me when I started teaching here at Northern Valley.

The 5th grade donated all the Styrofoam, plates, cups, napkins. The Northern Valley cooks made the soup and 269 cinnamon rolls. They made 6 big roasters of soup. There was 3 gallons left over but they sold. Irma and Launa did the cooking. Mrs. Baird got it organized with only 2 days of planning. It was a free will donation. Thank you to everyone that help this cause.

Surveys .

Question of the two weeks- If you were stranded on a desert island, what are two things that you would bring? Why?

Eden said-

“I’d bring food and water, because you’d die without them.”

Cooper said-

“I’d bring a house and a lot of water, because I wouldn’t want to stand in the sun all day, so I’d be in my air conditioned house drinking ice cold water, watching ESPN.”

Lizzy said-

“I’d bring food so I don’t starve and a dog for company.”

Camden said-

“I would bring a fishing pole with bait so that I can catch sharks and eat them. I’d also bring a portal, so I can go back to my house.”

Sports continued...

game between the C-team girls was a success, 12-8. And even though the B-girls lost 6-13, they did their very best and had a good game. Thanks to the coaches for their great support, every sport fan was happy with the show! Great job Huskies! Let’s keep it up...

- Who really is the best quarter back? -

Sarah Baird - Collin Klein is an awesome quarterback who plays for Kansas State University. He is a great team leader always encouraging the Wildcats to keep playing. He has number 7 and scores many of the touchdowns. He helped in leading the Wildcats to a 10-2 record. If he keeps up the hard work and good effort he will go far in his football career.

Jesse Courtain- Taylor Martinez- I think is a very talented quarter-back. He is fast and is good in quick situations. He started as a freshman in college.

Eli Lowry- Robert Griffin III is a great QB, he is really fast, but he can also throw really well. He is really affective in both throwing, and running that is why I like him as a QB. And he won the Heisman.

